

I think K-LOVE should remain on the air because it means so much to alot of people. It is the only means of some people hearing about God and the plan of salvation. It has saved people that were contemplating suicide from taking their life. It encourages not only Christians but anyone that listens to it. My heart is really touched when I hear testimonials of young teenagers that listen to K-LOVE instead of the more popular rock stations. In the perilous times in which we are living our world needs more of Gods message of His love for us and not the bad influence of pop music and inappropriate radio shows.
